NINETEENTH YEAR

WAILUKU, MAUI CO., HAWAII, FRIDAY, AUGUST 2, 1918.

NUMBER 960

Maui's W. S. S. Drive Brought In $32,500

Now Has 18 Members In Limit Club—Last Saturday's Parade Was Big Success—All Parts Of County Make Encouraging Reports

As a result of the four days War Savings Stamp drive last week, Maui added to her quota, as nearly as can be estimated at present, $32,500.

This is much better than first reports indicated, and is probably fully as high a ratio if not higher, than any of the other islands. Also Maui now has 18 members in the "Limit Club".

The parade last Saturday afternoon brought a large number of persons to the exercises at the court house, a large proportion of whom bought stamps. The parade started from Kahului promptly at 3 o'clock and made an imposing spectacle. There were 134 cars in line, and they extended more than half way from Kahului to Wailuku.

A number of stirring addresses were made from the court house steps in both English and Japanese. The speakers were—Rev. E. E. Pleasant, Dr. Sugamura, W. F. Crockett and Y. Inouye. Chairman R. A. Wadsworth presided and also made some telling remarks.

The work of selling stamps during the week in Wailuku and vicinity was in the hands of a committee of ladies directed by Chas. A. Puck. This committee accounted for a total of $7,047.21.

Palakiko Again Made District Magistrate

Hana Feud Apparently Patched Up And No Opposition Materialized—Fight In Courts Probably Panned—Anjo Also Reappointed

H. E. Palakiko, was on Tuesday re-appointed district magistrate of the Hana district, and Joseph G. Anjo, reappointed district magistrate for Makawao, by Governor McCarthy. Both appointments are subject to confirmation by the territorial senate.

Palakiko was under hot fire during his past term on charges of being mixed up in a gambling game in one instance, and of assault and battery in another, but the charges were not sustained. It was announced at the time of the trial of the gambling charge, in which a number of Hana people were mixed up, that the case would be carried to the supreme court, and that other counts against the accused would be pressed. Also it was reported that the opponents to Palakiko in Hana would have an array of facts to lay before the Governor that would make virtually impossible his reappointment. It is understood, however, that the hatchet has been buried by the warring factions in Hana, and that no opposition was made to the reappointment for this reason.

New Draft Registry Shows 440 New Names

The various local draft boards on Maui completed the work of registering youths who have become of age since the last registration a year ago, and of those who have come to the territory within that time and had not been registered.

The total for the county was 400. This about what had been estimated. Some of the precincts showed unusually large on account of the arrivals of Porto Rican laborers during the year.

POLICE DEPARTMENT TO LOOK FOR CROOKED SCALES

Frank C. Silva, of the sheriff's department, will start next Monday on a tour of the county for the purpose of inspecting and testing scales, weights, and measures used in stores and shops. He will start on Molokai. It has been 2 years since a similar inspection was made, and it is believed quite likely that a considerable number of crooked weights and measures may have got into use in that time.

This international food sharing is just looking after "my folks," "your folks" and "our folks."

New Call Of Draft Takes All Class I

Extra Men Notified And Dispatched In Short Order—16 Men Short Will Be Secured By Modification Of Certain Requirements

The call for 226 additional draftees from Maui to help fill the national guard regiments on Oahu to full war strength reached the local draft board last Friday afternoon. In spite of the short notice 83 men were gotten together and sent down on the Claudine the following evening, and on last Wednesday 113 more were dispatched which stripped the board of all its available Class I men. With some 14 men from Maui in Honolulu this brought up the number to 210, or 16 less than called for.

However it is expected to make up these by men formerly rejected on account of height and weight. Recent modification of the requirements in these particulars makes it possible to secure quite a number more than possible before.

Following is the full lists of men who left last Saturday and on Wednesday of this week:

Those Who Went Last Saturday
No. Name and Residence
1223 Estaban Kuitis Abako, Wailuku.
71 Frank Rodrigues, Lahaina.
245 Antone Rocha, Paia.
221 Sanroku Masamoto, Lahaina.
360 John De Rego, Hamakua.
386 Vincent Rodrigues, Lahaina.

Kauai Opposes Civic Convention This Year

D. H. Case, secretary of the chamber of commerce, and a member of the committee appointed to look into the matter of holding a civic convention this fall, has received a letter from the Kauai chamber of commerce to effect that Kauai does not believe it advisable to hold the meeting this year.

As the matter now stands, both Kauai and Hilo do not favor trying to hold the convention, while both the Honolulu chamber of commerce and the Honolulu Ad Club do. No other members of the territorial organization have yet been heard from.

The matter will be up for consideration at the meeting of chamber next Thursday afternoon, at which time the question of relative weight of the different territorial organizations will probably be considered and possibly some decision arrived at.

Raymond Must Give Bond To Keep Peace

After a trial before Judge McKay in the Wailuku district court this morning, Harvey Raymond, manager of the Raymond Ranch, of Ulupala, was placed under a bond of $500 to keep the peace for a period of 6 months.

D. H. Case, attorney for young Raymond, asked that the matter of filing the bond go over till tomorrow. He intimated that an appeal may be taken to a higher court.

The warrant against Raymond was sworn to by Charles E. Thompson, a rancher of Kamaole, who had, had trouble with Raymond over a piece of pasture land. He testified that Raymond had destroyed a gate and pulled down a section of enclosure wall to the pasture. In a quarrel which followed Raymond had threatened to shoot him.

Harvey Raymond is the son of Dr. Raymond, owner of the Raymond Ranch. He was with his son in court this morning. The case was prosecuted by County Attorney E. R. Bevins.

GIRL FROM REFORM SCHOOL BOOSTS HER AGE AND GETS MARRIED

By swearing that she was over 18 years of age, Lei Nawahine was enabled to get a marriage license for herself and Joe Kawaha, and later the couple were married by the Rev. Father Bruno. It later developed that the girl is not yet 18 years old and that she was on Maui on probation from the girls' industrial school on account of the illness of a relative.

The matter was brought to the attention of County Attorney Bevins who is investigating the case. If it seems desirable for the girl's own good it may be that the marriage will be revoked.

Maui Takes Lead In Novel Stock Feeds

Cane Tops Promise To Make Valuable Hay—Pigeon Pea Hay Also A Promising New Product—Haiku Ranch To Eliminate Imported Feeds

Pigeon pea hay, shredded corn stover, home grown corn, and cane top hay, are the principal ingredients with which the Haiku Ranch and the Maui Agricultural Co. hope to replace entirely the stock feeds which have heretofore been in large quantity brought from the coast.

The Haiku Ranch is just completing what is perhaps the largest storehouse and mill in the territory for preparing these feeds. It is located at Haiku and is being connected up with the Kahului railroad with a short track to make transportation a simple matter. This mill will be equipped with machinery for separating and grinding grains and for mixing various feeds, as well as for drying and storing them.

The Pigeon pea hay is being made from the tops containing the grain which have been grown by F. G. Krauss. These tops with stems leaves and pods are first cured like hay, and will later be ground for mixing with other products to form a balanced stock ration.

The corn stover from several hu-

Artist E. W. Christmas Dies Of Heart Attack

News of the death of E. W. Christmas, R. B. A., which occurred suddenly in the Queen's Hospital, Honolulu, last Sunday night, came as a shock to the many Maui friends of the kindly artist who has spent much of the past several years on this island. The death is attributed to heart disease.

Mr. Christmas was an Englishman and a world traveler and painter. He came to the islands about 3 years ago and became so enamored with the scenery here that he had prolonged his stay from month to month, the while painting steadily. He had expected to leave very shortly, however, for a tour of the South Seas, and went to Honolulu from Maui a few weeks ago with that idea, but had been delayed on account of lack of steamer accommodations.

While he had not been in the best of health, he did not consider himself ill, and the attack on Sunday was sudden. The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon from William's undertaking parlors.

Mr. Christmas was highly regarded as an artist, and his paintings had been exhibited in the British Academy. His "Christ of the Andes", exhibited at the Panama-Pacific Exposition, was perhaps his best known work. Many of his paintings are now owned in island homes. The artist was of a friendly and kindly nature, and he had made friends where ever he went, who will learn of his demise with deep regret.

PAUL TOWNSLEY ANSWERS CALL FOR ACTIVE SERVICE

Paul H. Townsley, civil engineer of the Wailuku Sugar Co., and for some months past an officer in the army reserve list, was last Saturday ordered to report to Honolulu for active service. At the same time the entire reserve list of the Islands was called for duty.

Mr. Townsley has been anxiously trying to get into active service for months past, and the report that the reserve has been summoned came to him as a pleasant surprise. His many friends on Maui will see him leave with regret.

MATHEWS NOW IN MASSACHUSETTS

In an interesting letter recently received by Chas. A. Puck, of the Alexander House Settlement, from L. R. Mathews, former head worker of the institution, states that he had attended the Y. M. C. A. conference at Springfield, Mass., and expects to go to New York city shortly. He had not yet accepted a new post, although he had a number of positions under consideration. His family is well, and he asks to be remembered to his Maui friends.

Judge L. L. Burr was the 4-minute speaker at the Wailuku Orpheum last Tuesday night, his subject being the organization of labor in the United States as a factor in winning the war. The address was interesting and instructive.

Wailuku Ball Team Issues Challenge

Wants To Play Any Picked Team On Maui For Championship—Lahaina Particularly Invited—Proceeds For Red Cross

The Wailuku senior baseball team, which last Sunday won the championship in the central Maui series, now issues a challenge to any picked team of the island for an all-Maui championship game to be played a week from next Sunday, August 11. The entire proceeds of the game will be given to the Red Cross.

Joe Medeiros, manager of the Wailuku team, says his team would particularly like to have a team from Lahaina accept this challenge, especially since west Maui has been doing a good deal of big talking lately about their prowess on the diamond.

Any team wishing to accept this challenge should notify the MAUI NEWS as soon as possible in order that the game may be properly advertised to insure a good crowd.

Death Of J. P. Cooke Comes As Shock To Many Maui Friends

News of the death of Joseph Platt Cooke, which reached Maui last Friday afternoon, came as a great shock to not only his relatives and business associates on Maui, but to the many other friends on this island who had known him for years.

Death came to Mr. Cooke while he slept, and it was not until about noon or that his wife made the discovery. He had presumed that he was sleeping later than usual. "Joe" was familiarly known as "Baldwin", and was one of the business leaders of the territory for the past 20 years. As head of the firm of J. P. Cooke & Baldwin he directed some of the "big business" policies of the islands with a firm hand. He was also a president or director in the seven big sugar companies of the Alexander & Baldwin agency. He had been president of the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce, president of the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association, and president

Ice Plant For New Company Completed

Verne J. Burgess, district engineer of the Automatic Refrigerating Company for the territory, who has been in Wailuku for several weeks installing the new ice plant of the Wailuku Soda & Ice Works, Limited, completed his work the first of this week and turned the plant over to the company. The company has been making ice successfully for several days, and began the first of the month delivering its product to customers.

The new ice plant is perhaps the last word in perfection of ice making machinery. It is claimed to be entirely automatic, requiring no attention of an operator. It is driven by electric power, and is arranged to take current at hours in the day when the usual load of the power company is lightest, and thus makes use of waste energy.

Various safety device protect the motor and compressing machinery from abnormal conditions. The plant has a capacity of 8 tons of ice per day.

PLANNING TO DREDGE CHANNEL FOR SHIPS BOATS AT LAHAINA

The harbor board has authorized Superintendent of Public Works Bigelow to make soundings and borings at Lahaina with a view to having a deep channel dredged through the reef at that point in hope of affording a safer approach to the Lahaina landing for ships' boats. As soon as the data is in hand estimates will be prepared of the cost of the dredging work, and steps may be taken towards carrying out the actual work.

HARBOR BOARD APPROVES NEW HANA WHARF PLANS

Plans for the new Hana wharf, as prepared by Superintendent of Public Works Lyman H. Bigelow, were approved by the harbor board at a meeting last week. The construction work on the new wharf will begin as soon as the necessary conveyances of land needed for approaches can be made. This land is owned by the Kuleku Sugar Company.

The advance is probably the most important since the Germans evacuated Marne. The gains give the Allies command of the gateway through which Germans have been retreating, and makes further slow and orderly retreat of enemy impossible. It will probably force Germans beyond the Vesle. The situation is extraordinarily good.
